RE: Moonlighting Project

Dear Paul Gradie,

This letter confirms that Octopus makes no claim of copyright or other IP ownership, and has no commercial interest in, the personal project that you described below, provided it remains largely in line with this description:

Description of the project

The project is a web app developed independently by me [Paul Gradie] that uses similar technologies to Octopus Deploy (i.e. languages and frameworks, e.g. typescript, react, .NET) but does not overlap in any way in the business domain. The web app is a self-service chat widget configuration tool and chat widget. Essentially one logs onto a website, configures a chat conversation as well as relevant information intended to be sent upon request, and loads the widget into their personal/business site for website visitors to engage with.

You are welcome to work on this project outside of work time, but please take note of the moonlighting policy in our handbook for expectations about how this work might affect your work at Octopus.

Regards,

Paul Stovell
